

Wild Wine

Coriole Vineyards in conjunction with Conservation Ark present the first of the 'Wild Wine' series. This 2006 Cabernet Sangiovese was supplied by Coriole Vineyards with the aim of raising money to help save animals from extinction through Conservation Ark.

Conservation Ark

The Royal Zoological Society of South Australia (RZSSA) has developed Conservation Ark, a new integrated science and conservation arm that encompasses the RZSSA's increasing range of conservation activities. Conservation Ark is involved in a variety of conservation activities including conservation science, the management of natural landscapes and threatened species, captive breeding for release to the wild and conservation education.

Vintage

Sangiovese was pioneered in Australia by Coriole Vineyards with the first plantings in 1985. Here it is blended with another Coriole favourite, Cabernet Sauvignon. The blackberry and chocolate of the Cabernet is balanced by the cherry scented Sangiovese. Medium bodied with fine grained tannins.

Label

The label was deigned with the help of the University of South Australia School of Art final year students. The winning design was by Anna Chang and depicts the Corroboree Frog, one of the many conservation programs to benefit from the sale of the wine.

Wine will be sold by the half dozen at $15 a bottle.
