Keith first became involved with Zoos SA when a friend adopted a Meerkat for him as a Christmas present many years ago. Since that time his support of Monarto Zoo in particular has grown, to a point where Keith is now a volunteer for one day a week at the zoo and has decided to include Zoos SA in his will.

"I want to make sure that future generations get to enjoy some of the amazing sights and experiences I have whilst being involved with the zoo."

A devoted animal lover, Keith has fond memories of visiting the zoo as a child and being amazed by the size of some of the animals. After a career in Government across the State, when it became time for him to put his retirement plan into action there was only one thing he wanted to do... become a volunteer at Monarto Zoo.

"Volunteering at Monarto is amazing – my office is very special. I get to be involved with the day to day activities and have helped upgrade exhibits, build additional storage areas and rebuild stone walls – no two days are ever the same and the people and animals are amazing!"

When considering updating his will with his wife, leaving a gift to their favourite charities was of great importance to them both. They visited their solicitor and made sure that their wishes were included and the charity was referenced properly and then advised Zoos SA of their decision.

"Leaving a gift in my will to Zoos SA was very important to me. I want to make sure that future generations get to enjoy some of the amazing sights and experiences I have whilst being involved with the zoo. I recently spent some time with Kwathali the Cheetah at Monarto and it was one of the most memorable experiences of my life. I want to help make sure this is possible for many years to come. "
