About Zoos South Australia

Zoos SA is a conservation charity that exists to connect people with nature and save species from extinction.

Since 1878, Zoos SA has long been established as a treasured part of the community, representing a significant part of South Australia's heritage and is one of the state's oldest conservation organisations

Zoos SA operates Adelaide Zoo and Monarto Safari Park; each is a unique blend of conservation and zoological activities that encourage science-based conservation work, public recreation, education and tourism. Together they house a wide variety of spectacular wildlife in internationally renowned exhibits.

Adelaide Zoo

Adelaide Zoo, one of Adelaide's most iconic attractions, is home to more than 2,500 animals and 250 species of exotic and native mammals, birds, reptiles and fish exhibited over eight hectares of magnificent botanic surroundings.

Adelaide Zoo is the second oldest zoo in the nation and represents a significant part of South Australia's heritage and social history. Since Adelaide Zoo first opened to the public in 1883, generations of South Australians have shared in the wonder of a visit to the zoo.

It's a relaxing green city oasis and vibrant sanctuary that gives you the feeling of stepping into another world. It's full of diversity, colour and unique things to see and do. It offers an intimate zoo experience speckled with elements of curiosity, fantasy, fun and surprise.

Adelaide Zoo is the only major metropolitan zoo in Australia to be owned and operated by a conservation charity, Zoos SA.

Monarto Safari Park

Monarto Safari Park is the largest safari experience to exist outside of Africa. The park spans more than 1,500 hectares and is home to more than 50 species of exotic and native mammals, birds and reptiles. You can actually fit every major zoo in Australia in Monarto Safari Park and still have land left over! Monarto Safari Park is home to many of Africa's most impressive animals and also one of Australia's largest lion prides and giraffe herds.

The park is located 60 minutes (70 kilometres) from South Australia's capital city Adelaide and is the gateway to the picturesque Murraylands region.

Monarto Safari Park opened in 1983 as a breeding and pasture area. Since officially opening to the public in October 1993, Monarto Safari Park is now home to more than 500 animals roaming in vistas as far as the eye can see. It's an escape from the city that immerses visitors in a natural safari-style setting.

Over the years Monarto has celebrated outstanding breeding success and our captivating, quirky and unique animals have captured the hearts of our visitors.
